National association cites Southern's Vogtle

Southern Company President Alvin W. Vogtle Jr. has been named Executive of the Year by the National Management Association.

The award, given annually since 1925, is the highest honor and is presented to an executive who has made a major contribution to improving the management profession in America.

Southern Company's parent firm, the parent firm for Alabama Power, Georgia Power, Gulf Power and Mississippi Power, promotes electric service in Bay St. Louis and Wealden. A keynote address at the NMA's annual conference in San Diego, Calif., Vogtle said that a dramatic change in the direction of the company has provided America with a chance to improve its economy.

Company since 1969, Vogtle heads the parent firm of the nation's largest investor-owned electric utility group. In addition, he serves as a director of each of the Southern Company's operating units — Alabama Power, Georgia Power, Gulf Power and Mississippi Power.

He was awarded the Silver Star and the Purple Heart during his war service.

With the change of administration in the last election, private enterprise has gained a leadership at the highest level of government. But Vogtle warned that if business does not demonstrate its ability to improve the quality of life in the next three years, we face the danger of a turn back to central government control that will handicap the nation for another 30 years, or more.

He also urged that the new tax and budget policies of the Reagan Administration be given sufficient time to create a new economic environment. If national economic policy is to succeed in this decade, Vogtle said, "the government must stop trying to reduce its insatiable hunger for credit."

He said federal borrowing, including on-budget loans, will account for 38 percent of the total demand on U.S. credit markets this fiscal year.

Vogtle concluded that high interest rates are only a temporary barrier to the nation's economic growth.

He said that the Southern electric system itself has been involved in developing new energy sources, ranging from solar energy to the development of advanced nuclear fuel rods. He said that the system is committed to the development of advanced nuclear fuel rods.

Stab victim satisfactory

Hancock County Sheriff's Office is recovering a stab victim who received a stab wound during a street fight early Sunday morning. The victim, a 24-year-old male, was taken to the hospital and is in satisfactory condition. He is recovering from a punctured lung and lacerations to the left arm.

Gary Gremlion, Bay St. Louis Assistant Police Chief, said, Bay Patrolman Cornelius Bradley was patrolling in an area near Sycamore Street at approximately 1:30 a.m. Saturday when he was informed of the incident. Gremlion and St. Francis Street. Gremlion said Bradley found Fairclough, stabbed upon approaching the scene and arrested Randy Lyons, 23, who was nearby.

Lyons gave his address only as Apt. 51, Pass Christian. He was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill and is being held in the Hancock County Jail under $25,000 bond.

Gremlion said the incident occurred following an argument between Lyons and Fairclough's sister. "Her brother stepped in to break up the argument and the fight started," Gremlion said.

We have read and heard a lot of praise in recent days of the New Orleans Saints for their victory over the conference-leading Cincinnati Bengals.

One of our subscribers told us Tuesday the reason the Saints played so well was because of the St. Stanislaus Cheerleaders. That is hard to believe, but taking a lot of things into consideration, it was a good point as it was the only game of the season at which the Rock cheerleaders have appeared in the Superdome.

The possible championship game of the season for Hancock County will be played Friday at Hancock North Central.

The Bay High Tigers, victors over St. Stanislaus in a very, very close game several weeks ago, will tangle with the Hancock North Central Hawks.

If Bay High can take the Hawks, they will be the champs of the county, but if the Hawks win, and we are not experts on these matters, all three teams would be tied in county play at 1-1.

Earlier in the season Stanislaus defeated Hancock, so this proves to us one thing, all three Hancock County football teams are very well balanced.

Looking at the Deep South Conference standings and who has defeated whom tells us that the conference is also well balanced.

This season has been one of the most exciting in local high school football play in many a year.

We hope enthusiasts will fill the Hawk Stadium Friday, both Hancock and Bay High fans.

A good game should be on Friday in Rock-A-Chaw Stadium as St. Stanislaus tries to deflate the sails of the Pass Christian Pirates.

Both teams have had good and bad games this season, so this should prove to be an outstanding contest, especially if the Rocks and Pirates both play a good game.

We know there are many Rock followers, so we hope that all will be at the Stanislaus Stadium Friday and a good supporting group will accompany Pass Christian.

Many of our youngsters, as well as those a little older are familiar with Kermit The Frog, star of Jim Henson's Muppet characters.

Well, Kermit is the National Chairman of the 1981 National UNICEF Day campaign.

We bring this up because, as in previous years, except 1980, a collection of funds for UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) collection will be made in the Bay St. Louis and Waveland areas.

The funds collected will be sent to the U.S. Committee for UNICEF and will benefit the neediest children of Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

We hope everyone will respond and help this very worthy collection.

We as a community have been a part of UNICEF for many years, and our youths will be out on Halloween night with identification, collecting.

The funds purchase such items as equipment, training and supplies for primary health care, improved nutrition, and safe, clean water supplies for children and their families throughout the developing world.

Remember UNICEF Saturday night.

We still have several days of the Hancock County Fair in progress with a lot of activities.

We hope everyone will take time today, Friday, Saturday or Sunday evening to visit the Annual County Fair on Longfellow Road.

Hope to see you at the fair!

Those of us looking for some real Halloween excitement may want to visit Triton's Haunted House on Ocean Avenue in Waveland Thursday, Friday or Saturday night.

In talking to some of the members of Triton, we are told they have gone all-out this year to scare everyone.

As most of you know, Triton's Krewe parades down US-90 from Our Shopping Center in Waveland to the Bay Mall on Mardi Gras Day.

Admission for the Haunted House is $1.00.

Proceeds from the Halloween event will be used to help make a Mental Center for the elderly in Hancock County.

So, if you are looking for a thrill, visit your child and your friends at Triton's Haunted House on Ocean Avenue in Waveland.

Both Chairman Bill Broussard and all the other folks who command those with wealth to care for the poor are to be commended for their efforts.

Hancock residents can help destitute of developing nations through UNICEF's Halloween fundraising drive

It is hard to imagine that some of the millions of people who live in the poorest nations of the world are still suffering from poverty, disease, and starvation. The children, especially, are most seriously affected.

UNICEF (the United Nations Children's Fund) works to help the world's poorest children. It provides food, medicine, and other necessities to help them survive.

Just when recovery seems on the horizon, nature's fury is unleashed again—in the form of earthquakes, typhoons, and other natural disasters.

Water-borne diseases, such as typhoid, cholera, and dysentery, can spread like wildfire, killing thousands already weakened by hunger.

Ignorance and lack of education are also potential killers. Many people are simply not aware of the connection between balanced diets and good health.

In East Africa, for example, only men enjoy valuable chicken and egg protein. It is believed to be "not good" for women and children.

UNICEF cooperates with over 100 governments around the globe to combat these and other problems, offering development assistance and emergency relief.

A popular motto is: give a man a fish and you have given him dinner; but teach a man to fish and you have given him a livelihood. UNICEF operates by this principle.

Fish have played a major role in changing many Asian diets. In Bangladesh, the native fish population had dwindled to such dangerously low levels by 1976 that mass starvation was imminent.

The Bangladesh government, assisted by UNICEF, began an emergency program to provide a new fish farming technique.

New law to affect local fishermen 'slightly'

By BRENT MACOY

Hancock County commercial fishermen apparently will be affected only slightly, if at all, by a proposed Waveland ordinance which would prohibit fishing boats from using nets within 1,000 feet of Waveland beaches.

At their last meeting, the Waveland aldermen directed their attorney to draw up the ordinance after J.P. Compreta, state representative from Hancock County, requested action be taken.

Compreta stated he has had complaints that fishing boats are limiting the numbers of fish available for shoreline mullet and oyster fishermen.

Compreta told the board he had received numerous complaints from angry fishermen who objected to the boats taking large catches close to shore.

The board is expected to approve the ordinance at its next meeting.

After Wednesday's meeting, Compreta said he would attend the next Bay St. Louis city council meeting and request similar action from Bay St. Louis officials.

All the other cities along the coast have ordinances prohibiting boats from using nets within 1,000 feet, Compreta said.

Tuesday, Lucien Ger, Waveland city attorney, said he is developing an ordinance for Waveland which is very similar to those of other coastal communities.

Fishermen at Bayou Cadet say they know of few fishermen who will be affected by the ordinance since most boats out of that harbor either shrimp or oyster.

Jim Mayfield, a shrimp fisherman from Bayou Cadet, said, "As far as I know most of those boats (boats fishing mullet near shore) are from out of state."

Mayfield said he thinks most of those boats are from Florida and docking in Pascagoula.

Dr. Jim Deegen, chief of the Wildlife and Fisheries Department at the Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach, said a state law currently prohibits boats from using nets 1,000 feet offshore from public or private piers.

In addition, an ordinance passed by the Mississippi Commission of Wildlife Conservation prohibits the use of trammel and gill nets 1,500 feet from harbors and the barrier islands between May 15 and Sept. 15, he said.

Compreta said the main purpose of the new ordinance would be to prohibit the use of purse seines.

Deegen said Mississippi is the only state in the Gulf of Mexico which has no restrictions on the use of those nets in offshore waters.

Florida, Alabama and Texas do not allow "purse seines" to be used. And Louisiana requires permits be obtained to use the nets.

Deegen said restrictions against the use of purse seines were lifted after 1978 in Mississippi.

The result of lifting those restrictions is a dramatic increase in their use, Deegen said.

In 1977, 300,000 pounds of mullet were caught, and 1978 the mullet catch in Mississippi totaled 340,000 pounds.

After restrictions were lifted, records show the 1978 catch increased to 1.4 million pounds and 1.8 million pounds in 1980.

Deegen said the Gulf of Mexico Fisheries and Management Council will be discussing the use of purse seines in Mississippi at their next meeting scheduled this December in Biloxi.

CARAMEL CRUNCH APPLES

Juicy apples fill the markets during autumn, and that means the time is ripe for Caramel Crunch Apples. What makes these caramel-dipped apples go crunch? They're covered with 100 percent natural cereal. This crunchy cereal filled with oats, whole wheat, almonds, coconut, honey and brown sugar makes a delicious caramel apple coating.

Caramel Crunch Apples are super after-school snacks and can enhance any fall gathering. On Halloween, surprise trick-or-treaters with these bewitching treats. Or take the gang apple picking at a nearby orchard and have a do-it-yourself Caramel Crunch Apple party afterward! They are as much fun to make as they are to eat. Just follow this simple recipe.

5 wooden sticks or skewers
5 medium apples
One 14-ounce jar of
Caramel Crunch
One 14-ounce jar of natural cereal, coarsely
crushed

1. Wash and wash apples, pat dry.
2. Dip apples in caramel.
3. Roll apples in cereal.
4. Place apples on waxed paper to dry.

These apples are best eaten immediately after dipping. They are also delicious if stored in a cool place for a few days.

For more recipes, contact the Hancock County Extension Home Economist, 1000 Highway 90, Bay St. Louis, MS 39320.

USING APPLES

—A small, hard and have a poor flavor. If overripe, the apple will have too yellow a ground color and will be poor in flavor with a soft, mealy texture.

Always check the skin. They should be smooth and reasonably free from blemishes. Surfaces, mottling (brownish ringed areas on skin) make good eating fruit and may be less expensive.

It is usually more economical to buy apples in large quantities when they're in season. However, purchase only what you can use or store without waste. Smaller apples will usually keep longer and have less blemishing.

Buy apples for their intended use.

—Small: 2 medium and 2 large apples generally weigh about one pound.

—2 medium apples equal 1 cup grated apple.

—1 pound of apples equal 3 cups diced apples.

—Allow about two pounds of apples for one nine-inch pie (6-8 apples).

—One bushel of apples will make approximately 18-20 quarts of applesauce or apple butter.

—When cooking with apples, use very little water; none for pies, puddings, etc. Add only enough water for applesauce to prevent the apples from scorching.

—When making salads, dip apple slices in lemon juice, salt water or ascorbic acid mixture to prevent darkening.

Golden Delicious apples stay white longer.

PUBLIC UTILITY HEARING—May 31—Louis City Councilmen, from left foreground, James Hamilton III, Harry Faye, and Gene Taylor, and City Clerk Robert Farber, hear testimony from Ray St. Louis Housing Authority tenants before a public hearing Tuesday night in the Valere C. Jones Building at Ray St. Louis. The councilmen informed the tenants of a recent recommendation by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development that the city take over the project, install a utility system and charge customers on an individual basis. The tenants responded by objecting to the changes. Many stated they could not afford to pay any more for utilities and that what they are currently paying is great. (Staff photo by Brent Mayer)

NEW MEDICAL OFFICES—Dr. Thomas Flores, orthopedic surgeon and Dr. Bernard Sym, pediatrician have moved to their new offices across from Hancock General Hospital on Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis. Sym, whose office of US-9 was destroyed by fire earlier this year had been practicing in Dr. Edmund Alcalan's office next door to his new office. Dr. Flores has recently joined the staff at Hancock General. (See photo in this column.)

A high-contrast, black and white image of a complex, abstract pattern, possibly a tapestry or a heavily textured surface. The pattern is dense and intricate, featuring various geometric and organic shapes. On the left side, there are large, rounded, bulbous forms that resemble stylized figures or organic growths. The right side is dominated by a grid-like structure with numerous small, square and rectangular compartments, some of which contain circular or star-like motifs. The overall effect is one of extreme contrast and detailed texture.

New NBC president Frank P. (from Productions) has Street Blues for a fine slot. He has also said a few minutes, namely, limiting of sub-plots in each week. This may detract from the aesthetic totally unique and remains to be seen.

Maker recalling 8,000 chain saws

The firm is conducting the recall in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

The recall applies to "Electramac" EM 10, EM 12A and EM 14A chainsaws, which include an electric cord connected to the back of the unit. The saws have been sold nationwide for approximately $70 to $110. No other McCulloch products with electric or gasoline engines are involved.

The firm initiated the recall after it learned of four incidents of spontaneous restarting among units manufactured by Black and Decker of Canada, Inc. McCulloch and Black and Decker of Canada are subsidiaries of the "Black and Decker Manufacturing Company" of Towson, Maryland. The saws are of the type which may fall off a chain, causing the chain to continue to run after release of the trigger or to start spontaneously when put down after use.

No injuries have been reported, although these conditions pose a potential safety hazard. In the one occurrence reported in the U.S., the electric chain saw restarted and was switched off and put down.

Black and Decker of Canada has produced an improved "on-off" switch that will eliminate the restarting problem, according to McCulloch. Consumers should immediately stop using their "Electramac" chainsaws and bring them to a Black and Decker Service Center for repair.

New "on-off" switches will be incorporated into their saws free of charge. Units with new switches, which will now be on sale, will be designated "Type 24" and labeled in the saw's manual. Consumers should look in the Yellow Pages section of the telephone directory under the heading "Tools."

McCulloch, which informs CPSC of the potential hazard, said it has mailed notices to all owners of the chainsaws, providing instructions to all owners to return the saws. It returned the saws to the factory with the chain saws.

Consumers who require additional information about this recall or are too far from a Black and Decker Service Center to return their saws should call McCulloch toll-free at 800-422-6302. In California, 213-422-9724.

Consumers also may contact CPSC's toll-free hotline at 800-438-3326; Maryland, 800-492-5383; Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, 800-638-5383.

HILL STREET BLUES

After winning more Emmys than any television show in history, Hill Street Blues returns for its second season on Thursday, Oct. 29.

Despite Hill Street Blues' annual ratings throughout its first season, NBC vowed to stick with the intelligent cop-drama for at least another year because, as ex-NBC president Fred Silverman noted, "it's just too good to cancel."

Then came the shower of Emmys for executive producers writers Michael Kroll and Steven Bochco, as well as awards for lead actors Daniel J. Travanti and Barbara Babcock.

The awards only reinforced what a minority of Americans already knew—Hill Street Blues was the best show on commercial television in 1983.

New NBC president Grant Tinker (from MTM Productions) has slated Hill Street Blues for the Thursday time slot.

He has also said there will be a few minor changes, namely, limiting the number of sub-plots in the program and ending more of the stories each week.

This may detract somewhat from the aesthetics of this totally unique show...much remains to be seen.

THE FRENCH LEUTENANT'S WOMAN

NBC has also thought of something off the Hill and about the team (Michael Warren and Charles Haid). Hopefully Hill Street Blues will have a second season.

But what is the story? The French Lieutenant's Woman is the second season's first season premiere on Oct. 29 and you can find out the story.

What's all this hype about Meryl Streep and The French Lieutenant's Woman? It and she are everywhere.

It's been the most hyped movie of 1981. The French Lieutenant's Woman, she being Meryl Streep.

Streep has been hailed as America's finest actress by just to name a few: Time, Newsweek, Rolling Stone and the Today Show's Gene Shaul.

The statement is hard to fault considering the quality of films in which Streep has performed.

Julia, The Deer Hunter, Manhattan, The Seduction of Joe Tynan, Kagemer vs. Kramer (her first Oscar) and now, The French Lieutenant's Woman, all displayed Streep's range and talent.

Going in to see The French Lieutenant's Woman, you expect so much a masterpiece that says so in bold print leaving the theater you feel as if you have been cheated, as all the hype was only hype. When you go about your daily routine, the subtle implications and fine, understated acting that is so much a part of The French Lieutenant's Woman begin to work on you.

The actors (Streep and newcomer Jeremy Irons) reveal themselves in memory as honest, never betraying their respective parts—and intelligent.

Harold Pinter's screenplay from John Fowles' brilliant bestseller, both expands and contracts the original work, adding touches and saying less ahead of the audience. Rare films handle the movie meticulously.

Relax, establish, and maintain an even, slow pace throughout the film. Even Freddie Fields' photography is complimentary.

Fields, who did last year's phenomenal The Elephant Man, highlights this film with his sharp focus, well-placed lighting and eye for 19th century detail.

The French Lieutenant's Woman will not leave you panting for breath as any body heat did earlier this year. But it is safe to say that it will at least earn Academy Award nominations for Streep, Irons and Pinter.

And The French Lieutenant's Woman is a classic movie in every sense of the term.

more and that means Jack O'Lanterns, and tricks and treating and appletime too. Apples for lucking in a pumpkin of water, apples for biting from a string over the head to see who wins, apples for munching, apples for cooking after the Halloween fun's over, and govt's wondering what to do with the surplus from the famine of the small fry.

OK, for the little cooking and shows, let's have Apples on a Stick. Wash between small red apples (like the kind that all but bite through) choose mellow meaty ones (best to your taste) and cut them.

Insert a wooden skewer into the top of each apple. Now you're ready to cook. Here's the recipe:

1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
1 cup oil
1 cup butter
1 cup salt

Put apples in a pot of boiling water. Cook for 10 minutes. Remove and drain. Toss with oil and salt. Bake in oven at 350°F for 1 hour.

Yummy! Enjoy!

Those sentenced on criminal offenses include:

—Clifford D'Angelo on 12 charges of automobile burglary. He pled guilty to the charges, was sentenced to seven years in the Parchman State Penitentiary, and ordered to pay $1,000 in restitution to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at a rate of $50 per month, plus all court costs.

Three men subpoenaed to appear in court, each facing a charge of possession of more than one ounce of marijuana, did not appear for trial.

William E. O'Neil, Gerald W. Grey and James M. Oakes were originally each released from jail on $10,000 bonds provided by William H. Stevens, Esq., Bonding Co. of Pascagoula.

Griffin ordered Herbert Harrison, Brant, Ala., to arrest the three and ordered bonds be increased to $2,000 for each man.

Frostbite sailors may settle for sunburn

The Pass Christian Yacht Club has scheduled its 23rd Frostbite Regatta, a three-day event, from Friday through Sunday. The regatta is open to all yachtsmen and yachtswomen representing different yacht clubs in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Florida.

Long, distant races will highlight Friday's activities at races from New Orleans to Pass Christian and Gulfport to Pass Christian. Both races are scheduled.

Thad Hoke, publicity chairman for the event, said the Frostbite Regatta gives yachtsmen and yachtswomen representing different yacht clubs in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Florida the opportunity to race.

Hoke stated that all yacht clubs are expected to be represented during the race. Yachtsmen participating in the race will be given a medal on the basis of the boat and sail number.

The race from New Orleans to Pass Christian will begin at 8 a.m. at a coast guard light at French End, New Orleans and is expected to take between 12 to 14 hours to complete.

The winner of the race will receive the N.Y. (Buddy) Beyer Memorial Trophy.

The race from Gulfport to Pass Christian is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Friday, approximately one mile south of the Gulfport Yacht Club. That race is expected to take some five hours before the boats cross the finish line at the Pass Yacht Club Pier.

On Saturday, day sailing vessels will begin Race-O-Ha at 11 a.m. outside the Pass Yacht Club. The boats will cover a three-mile triangular course within six of the beach.

Winners will be determined by combining results of that race with Race Two and Race Three. Those races are scheduled Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m. respectively.

Also Saturday, The Handicap and Easterly 30 race is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. That race will be between 15 and 25 miles long and may extend into the intracoastal waterway depending on weather conditions.

The final race in that event will begin 10:30 a.m. Sunday. Winner of the combined races will receive the Tom Brennan Trophy.

Saturday evening, a steel dinner, music, and dancing have been scheduled.

FROSTBITE REGATTA SPONSORS—The Pass Christian Yacht Club, which has been sponsoring the regatta since 1958, has scheduled its 23rd Frostbite Regatta, a three-day event, from Friday through Sunday. Long, distant races from New Orleans to the Pass Christian and from Gulfport to Pass Christian will kick off the three-day racing event. Over 30 yachtsmen from Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida are expected to participate.

Football winners

Jennie Rhodes, Bay St. Louis, is the winner of this week's Sea Coast Echo football contest.

Rhodes receives a $10 check for choosing a correct team out of a possible 12.

Melroy Dahmer, Waveland, is the second place winner, also choosing correct picks.

The tie breaker game of East Central—St. Stanislaus determined the winner again this week as it has all through the contest.

Rhodes guessed the total number of points to be scored in that game at 31 while Dahmer predicted 27. The actual total was 35.

Milton Payne, Bay St. Louis, matched the 2 yonders in correct selections at 9 but was eliminated on his tie breaker answer of 22 points.

A FROSTY HUG—Barbara Carter, a member of the Pass Christian Yacht Club Faculty Committee, hugs Frosty, a mascot for the club's Frostbite Regatta. This year's 23rd annual racing event is scheduled Oct. 23 through Nov. 1, and rumor has it that those who kiss or hug Frosty will have good luck racing. Members of 30 yacht clubs and 100 guests from Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida are expected to participate in the three-day event.

Pass Pirates seek end to losing streak by defeating St. Stanislaus

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Pass Christian High School Pirate football team is training this week with a goal of breaking a two-game losing streak by defeating the St. Stanislaus High School Rock-A-Chaw Friday night.

The rivalry football contest is slated for 7:30 p.m. at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

Bob Lumpkin, Pirate head coach, Wednesday morning stated, "Hopefully we'll win Friday night. We're capable of winning the ball game."

"We've got to come back from not playing well in the last game and play well against Stanislaus," he explained.

"This is always a tough ball game. We are ready physically because we have no injured players, but we're going to have to really prepare ourselves mentally in order to win," Lumpkin said.

"I feel like Stanislaus is one of the better teams in the conference. They have good speed and quickness, and hit pretty hard too," he reported.

Lumpkin said Rock-A-Chaw player Sean Logan is one of the better runningbacks in the Deep South Conference.

He also described SSC player Joe Cox as a "big strong fullback" and "fine defensive linebacker."

"They have numerous other players who are good," he said.

Perk to honor '71 national champions

On a rainy, sleep-faceted December night in 1971, the Gulf Coast Bulldogs won the national junior college football championship.

Now, a decade later, team members, coaches, and cheerleaders who played on their respective roles in the freezing slush at Savannah, Ga., have been selected to receive the highest honor their alma mater can bestow.

They will be inducted into the Alumni Hall of Fame during homecoming at Delta State University on Saturday. The ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. in the banquet hall, followed by a luncheon and tea.

And football, of course. The 1981 Bulldogs will play Holmes at 8 p.m. The game in A. L. May Memorial Stadium will follow ceremonies at 1:30 featuring the awarding of the Sam Owen Trophy for distinguished service to the college, and the introduction of homecoming queens and maids from GCJC's three campuses.

Amidst all the hoopla, the handshaking, the backslapping, the laughter, a few tears probably will be shed in nostalgic remembrance of how Gulf Coast went to the Shrine Bowl in the underdogs and emerged the 22-13 victors over the Fort Scott, Kansas, Greyhounds, the defending national champions.

Of how the Bulldogs went undefeated all season and won the South Division and state championship games and were ranked second behind Fort Scott by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Of how Fort Scott had a big gun running back named Tommy Reamon, considered superior to O.J. Simpson, who was unable to move the ball against Gulf Coast's tenacious defense.

Of how William "Bash" Miller, then the doorkeeper of the U.S. House of Representatives and himself a "Perk" graduate, paced the sidelines and shouted encouragement to the "boys."

Of how, in the noisy Bulldog dressing room after the game, an avid fan shouted, "Four little Mississippi counties whupped the whole Southern States of America!"

And how the Bulldogs' area restricted to the college district. Fort Scott, on the other hand, was permitted to sign players from any state in the nation.

Then, as now, the Bulldogs were coached by George Sekul, his assistants, Glen Dellenger, Bill the coach, and Ken Harris, who relinquished his line coach position to become Gulf Coast's athletic director.

Bulldog quarterbacks James (Ducky) McKay, the lanky, balding red head from Long Beach never started losing game with Gulf Coast. During his two seasons at the college, he led his team to straight victories, including the one over Fort Scott.

McKay, permanent team captain, was one of four players named to the NJCAA All-American teams. The others were tackle John Jelanovich of Ocean Springs, linebacker Kenny Larsen of Pascagoula, and end Skip Holland of Lucedale.

four more: Eugene Ganuchau, Gulpot, Ken Boynick, Don Fredericks, Melvin Morgan, Tommy Robinson, Larry Benefield, Lavarne Hawthorne, Terry Helms, Harold Holton, and

Jim Beck and John Jelanovich, Ocean Springs; Ronnie Gustale and Mike Niolet, Pass Christian; Charles Driskell and Skip Holland, Lucedale; Glover Hayden, Perkinston; James McKay, Long Beach; Bennie Williams, Vancleave; and Larry Campbell, Wade.

Managers were Cooper Farris at Perkinston and Stuart Hodges of Biloxi. Trainer was Jimmy Duboisson of Gulfport.

The cheerleaders: Patty Backus, Ocean Springs; Tommy Perry and George Krebs, Biloxi; Marsha Randall, Kathy Sarris (Eliz), Darlene Kapp (Wixon), and Marilyn Skellie (VanCourt), all of Long Beach.

GCJC opponent nationally ranked

Silver Gulf Coast Junior College Bulldogs play nationally-ranked Holmes in a homecoming football game Saturday night at Perkinston. Kickoff is 7 p.m. in the A. L. May Memorial Stadium.

Having the best record in the conference, Holmes is a challenge to anyone, and said Bulldogs Coach George Sekul, "We're hitting them in front of a homecoming audience that will include members from 1971 national champions' team."

That's history now, opined Sekul. "However, we'll be sorta reliving history and that puts the pressure on us (the team) to do our best to beat a team that has been defeated only once this season."

Holmes, 7-1 overall, is the North Division leader and is ranked 4th by UCO Grid Wire and 10th by the NJCAA. The only loss was to Copiah-Lincoln, now ahead in the race for the South Division title.

The Bulldogs, ranked fourth in the south, were winless in three straight games until they snapped back last Saturday by whipping Hinds 27-13. "It was a sweet victory," said Sekul. "We needed something to boost our confidence and improve our morale."

Sekul said there were no serious injuries in the game, but a freak accident before the kickoff resulted in an injury to starting tackle Doug Newman of Gulfport.

"Newman stepped in a hole in the endzone and twisted his ankle," said Sekul. "It's unlikely he'll see action Saturday night."

The long moving list of injured Bulldogs, including No. 1 quarterback Jim Newman, of Long Beach, who is out for the season with a broken hand, and his backup, Zach Nelson of Tusculum, Fla., the victim of a knee injury.

The last couple of games, Sekul has had to depend on No. 4 quarterback Morris Hill of St. Martin. "He's been doing a tremendous job," the coach said. "He's been playing like a seasoned veteran. And in the last two games he has thrown touchdown passes and made key runs to set up others."

Hill's backup is Kevin Preston, former quarterback at Stone High School who was "recruited" by Sekul "right out of the classroom" at Perkinston. "We simply had to have somebody to handle the ball in case Hill gets hurt."

Of Holmes, Sekul said the team "has a super defense that tries to make the opposition make a mistake. Then the offense strikes, either on the ground or through the air. The quarterback, Thomas Russell, is outstanding. He is the only Mississippi performer cited this year by the NJCAA."

The coach said Holmes represents the toughest team we've played all season. Our having so many key players out of action will hurt. But maybe having the 1971 champions rooting for us will help," he predicted.

PRC, Co-Lin vie for playoff slot

The Pearl River College Wildcats will be looking for their first post season playoff appearance in four years when the Co-Lin Wolves invade Doble Hadden Stadium for a crucial south division matchup this Saturday night.

The Wildcats, coming off a 20-13 victory over the Southwest Bears last week, find themselves in a do-or-die situation.

A victory over the Wolves would assure the Cats of a south division playoff berth. A loss would leave PRC with only a mythical mathematical possibility of winning the division.

"It'd be lying if I said this game was not more important than any we have played so far," said J.C. Arban, PRC's head football coach. "I'm expecting a good game from both teams, considering how much is at stake."

The Wildcats bring a 3-1 conference record into the game, 5-2 overall. Co-Lin is 2-4 in the division and holds a 3-1 overall ledger.

Last year the Cats finished the Wolves 23-10 and held a 53-163 record over Co-Lin since the series began back in 1954.

The last time the Wolves beat PRC was in 1978 by the lopsided score of 45-7.

The 68th meeting of the two colleges will be the final 1981 home appearance for the Wildcats, barring any post season play. Kickoff time will be at 7:30 p.m.

"After losing two games in the final minute and a half of the contest, and tying one more, we feel that this game is our second chance of making the playoffs this year," said Arban.

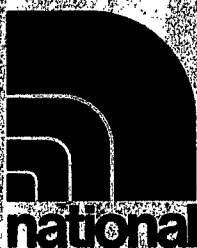

"If we would have held on and won the three close games we had already, our season wouldn't be coming down to this final contest at Hadden Stadium. In four situations now, we have to win, and our men will be ready."

On Monday afternoon Arban announced his Wildcat players of the week for outstanding performances against the Southwest Bears.

Tailbacks Randall Collette, Cecelia, La., and Edward Holt, Poplarville, were named offensive backs of the week. Collette rushed 12 times for 43 yards and pounded out a five-yard touchdown run to seal the contest late in the third quarter.

Holt proved to be the work horse for the Cats rushing 17 times and picking up 44 yards. Randy Cuevas, 275-pound tackle from Lumberton was named offensive lineman of the week.

Defensive back of the week honors went to Yancey McNeal, Mobile, Ala.

Women firefighters active in Hancock departments

By WAYNE DUOMB JR.
 Women firefighters are becoming more active in Hancock County departments, frequently providing assistance in medical emergencies and large blazes which strain available manpower.

The Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead Fire Departments each staff the full-time women firefighters who are both married to firemen.

Ann Peneguy, 41, of Bay St. Louis is a firefighter working for that city's fire department and her husband Richard is a National Space Technology Laboratory firefighter and emergency medical technician.

"She is also the mother of four children and three stepchildren ranging from eight to 16 years old," Pam SanFillippo, 29, of 16th Section Road in northern Hancock is a 24-hour-per-week volunteer firefighter with Diamondhead and her husband Don is the department's assistant chief.

"Both women have earned the rank of lieutenant and have worked with the departments for about six years. Peneguy began her second career as a dispatcher and SanFillippo started as an Explorer Scout in the Diamondhead department's Scout Troop.

Peneguy is a Southaven, Miss., native, was raised in Memphis, Tenn., and moved here with her husband in 1984 seeking "better job opportunities."

She explains, "I began working in 1974 as a part-time Bay St. Louis Police Department dispatcher and school crossing guard. I liked being able to assist people so I became involved in emergency medical services primarily because of my children."

Peneguy became a part-time dispatcher, bookkeeper, records clerk and secretary for the fire department in 1978. To further her job knowledge she completed a typing course in 1977 and a law enforcement rules of evidence class in 1978 at Pearl River Junior College.

Hancock County Vocational Technical Center.

With a goal of becoming a full-fledged firefighter, Peneguy completed several courses which include: esophageal airway clearing, proficiency, vehicle extrication, volunteer firefighter's school, aircraft maintenance and training, basic firefighting, fire hose boom and appliances, advanced first aid and emergency care, emergency medical service program on extrication, national firefighting course at Camp Blue Lake in Andalusia, Ala., emergency medical service first responders and basic life support regarding CPR which encompassed standard first aid, new first aid and module CPR, advanced first aid and emergency medical technicians for national ambulance registry.

SanFillippo is a New Orleans native who moved to Diamondhead with her mother and grandmother several years ago.

As an Explorer Scout she became interested in the local fire station duties.

After graduating from Hancock North Central High School, she attended the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg and Jefferson Davis Junior College in Gulfport for 1.5 years.

To further her firefighting career, SanFillippo completed courses which include: basic and advanced first aid, rescue, vital signs one and two, CPR instruction, fire fighting, clearing esophageal airways, pump operation and investigation, loss of life operation and Christmas tree fire fighting.

She is now completing an EMT course at Jefferson Davis and planning to attend a Licensed Practical Nurse School at Pearl River Vocational.

Peneguy says, in addition to her clerical duties, she inspects public buildings for fire hazards, assists in arson investigations and provides medical aid to members of the Senior Citizen Program which is located in the Valley Center where the fire station is also housed.

"During a few major structure fires, Peneguy has driven fire trucks, operated water pumps and hauled in the scene communications with local police."

"I generally don't go into a building until the fire is extinguished, but I'm trained to do that kind of firefighting work," she modestly explains.

Peneguy says occasionally she's rendered medical assistance if requested by Mobile Medic.

"I've assisted Mobile Medic sometimes when we're closer to the scene than one of their units. The only time I do anything medically is when we're called upon," she reports.

Lt. Ann Peneguy operates a fire truck's water pump controls.

The woman firefighter also assists her husband in CPR instruction and recently received an American Red Cross Hancock County Chapter award for "outstanding service" in that capacity.

SanFillippo says she frequently renders first aid to traffic accident victims. Diamondhead's Fire Rescue Unit responds to 40 to 50 accidents in the county causing injury.

In fact, she is slated to receive the Diamondhead department's Medal of Valor for saving a life in such a situation.

She explains that several months ago, while taking her husband and son to a friend's house, an accident with the car was reported as occurring on Crane Creek Road. SanFillippo says she was close to the scene, drove to the mishap and found a man suffering a heart attack.

"When I got to the scene, the man had no pulse, but was breathing a little bit because of some CPR attempted by some people who had stopped to help," she states.

"I got his heart beat going, he gasped and choked, then started breathing again. Mobile Medic and Don pulled up right after I revived the man," SanFillippo proudly reports.

The woman firefighter says occasionally she has been called upon to operate the "Jaws of Life" to free traffic accident victims, drive the fire pump truck, act as station dispatcher and assist in severe forest and structure fires.

In addition to being a firefighter, SanFillippo and her husband both are advisors to Diamondhead's Explorer Scout Troop.

High schoolers invited to Ole Miss

Parents from six Mississippi counties are invited to attend a special Ole Miss Night Tuesday, Nov. 3, at the Biloxi Hilton in Biloxi.

Activities will begin at 7 p.m. for residents of Harrison, Hancock, Jackson, George, Stone and Pearl River counties.

The six-county Gulf Coast Ole Miss Night will provide an opportunity for school and their parents to meet with University of Mississippi representatives to discuss admissions requirements, financial aid, and student and campus life.

Deans of the five undergraduate schools at Ole Miss and currently enrolled students will attend the meeting and will be available to answer questions about academic life and career preparation and training.

Special entertainment for the meeting will be provided by The Connection, a 15-member ensemble composed of Ole Miss students.

Members of the Ole Miss Ambassadors program, which this year represents all 12 Mississippi counties as well as seven states, will serve as hosts and hostesses for the evening.

For more information about the Gulf Coast Ole Miss Night or about admission to Ole Miss, call the University's toll-free number in Mississippi, 1-800-222-5100, or write the Pre-Admissions Office, University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677.

Question - Aging need not be synonymous with illness. But at least 80% of the elderly do suffer from one or more chronic diseases, compared with 40% of those under age 65. And since the favored way of dealing with many of these diseases is by medication, it is reasonable to assume that the elderly will use more drugs.

Answer - The three most prescribed drugs for the elderly, says NIDA, are Valium and Librium, the tranquilizers, and the non-narcotic analgesic, Dalgone. Methadone is a heroin substitute.

Junior Auxiliary, Easter Seal Society to screen scoliosis

Scoliosis? What's that? Seventeen-year-old Laurie H. can tell you. She's heard the word many times. The first time she heard it was about five years ago when she was 12.

Her aunt had come to visit, and Laurie was hanging up her aunt's coat. Glancing at Laurie, her aunt noticed that one of Laurie's shoulder blades seemed to stick out a lot. In the striped body shirt that Laurie was wearing, the protruding shoulder blade was easy to spot. "Laurie might have a curved spine," said her aunt.

Following visits to the doctor, and X-rays, the diagnosis came—Laurie had scoliosis, a side-to-side curvature to the spine.

Scoliosis is a lateral curvature of the spine, a deformity that causes discomfort, if not permanent disability for the unlucky victims.

Some victims slouch off their bad posture or backaches as merely a nuisance. Others may not feel pain at all, but there are warning signs: one leg longer than the other, uneven hips, a prominent scapula, uneven shoulders, a section of bulging ribs.

The best way to fight scoliosis is through early detection. Although the disease can progress in adulthood, the best medicine is to catch it in the juvenile growing years, before deformity worsens.

With that knowledge in hand, four years ago, the Gulf Coast Easter Seal Society began pushing for spinal curvature screenings in local schools. In 1979, the group found a willing volunteer in Dr. William C. Hopper, Jr., a Gulfport pediatric orthopedist at Gulf Coast Orthopedic Clinic.

Hopper is a key team member in the battle against scoliosis. His duties for curves—the kind of curves that can cripple, that can require braces or surgery—is real.

The Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary, under the supervision of the Gulf Coast Easter Seal Society and Dr. Hopper, will undertake screening for scoliosis in the local schools of Hancock County.

"We plan to do a mini-screening at St. Calixt's Elementary in Waveland Oct. 27," said Leta Noonan, auxiliary president.

Then in November we will go to the schools in the Bay St. Louis, Separate Municipal District, and to the Hancock County schools in December," she continued.

"We're trying to eradicate the surgical treatment for scoliosis," said Dr. Hopper. "If detected early, progression of serious curvature can be prevented, but we do have to educate the public, educate teachers and school nurses. They need to know what to look for," he continued.

"Many families cannot afford the financial burden of $11,000 to $15,000, which seems to be an average hospitalization cost for the surgery—so often it becomes the bane of the taxpayers."

And, too, the person with scoliosis faces hours on the operating table, and a body cast from nine to 12 months afterwards. It's all so unnecessary if detected early, Hopper concluded.

Hopper looks for five points when he screens a student: level shoulders, one shoulder blade larger or higher than another, arms symmetrically hanging by the side, level pelvis bones, symmetrical shoulder roundness, and straight spine when a student bends over, and a straight back.

"The Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary is trying to eradicate the seriousness of scoliosis through the screening and feels that it is very important to the health and well-being of the children of Hancock County," said Noonan.

"Permission slips will be going home to parents or students in the various schools, and we urge all parents to study their children and the detection signs of scoliosis," she concluded.

"We're just looking into the feasibility of this," White said. "We're looking for more construction money comes available."

The Pearl River Board approved the September Class Docket of $729,243.80. Business Manager Ron Holmes said $322,915 of this figure was money transferred from the general fund to the building fund for the renovation project, which is about to start. Another $12,000 was for taxes, and $394,328.80 was for other expenses.

Caution urged to prevent Halloween mishaps

The fun of Halloween needn't be marred by a mishap if parents exercise a little caution, according to Michael Hughes, poison services coordinator for the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Intentional poisoning does occur—however infrequently—and the best way to avoid the problem is for parents to limit trick-or-treating to the local neighborhood, Hughes says. "Know the people your children visit," he advises.

The biggest hazards by far are accidental, Hughes says. Some children may have allergic reactions to otherwise harmless "monster" make-up. "If the child has a history of allergies, it's advisable not to use it," he said.

The "glow stick" actually a safety device for children walking at night because it emits a glow when knocked against a hard surface, may prove harmful if a youngster gets overzealous in the knocking and causes the fluid to leak.

Foods prepared at home and given as treats may cause illness if the foods or the ingredients in the food were improperly stored, Hughes points out.

Dry ice is a favorite Halloween because it makes a punch bowl look like a misty marsh. "If a child swallows the solid carbon dioxide, it is swallowed," however, it can cause severe discomfort," he said.

Hughes recommends that children eat only that candy which is still wrapped in its original, unopened wrapper to avoid possible poisoning or contamination.

"If a child gets sick within 24 to 36 hours after they've been trick-or-treating," Hughes said, "parents should suspect contamination. They should seek medical advice."

"Just what the doctor ordered..."
A sure cure for a sick grocery budget!

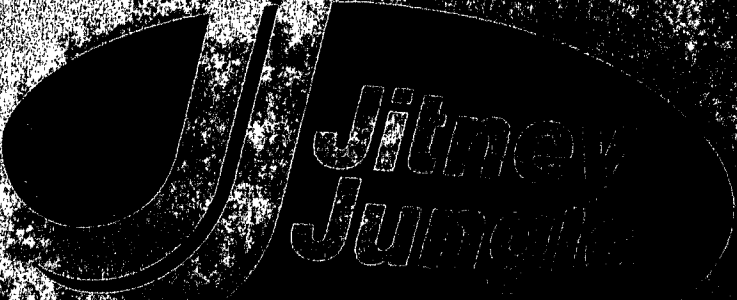

Three years ago, while other stores were discussing ways to save you money, we were busy stocking our shelves with NO-FRILLS, true "generic" products. We cut the extras, the frills — scents, patterns, expensive advertising, colorful packaging — to give you another way to save, plain and simple. Then and now, it's the thriftiest way to save. Nation-wide, the popularity of "generic" items is growing every day.

Occasionally you can save on name brands and store brands are always a cent or two less, but our NO-FRILLS will consistently give you more savings than any brand.

Saving time saves you money, so we put our always growing line of over 200 NO-FRILLS items together in a special section. You don't have to go bargain hunting throughout the store.

Wholesome (the nutritional quality is listed on the label), good-tasting food, quality for your family. With NO-FRILLS, you'll always get your money's worth. Jitney gives you quality and savings on everything you buy. Your favorite national brands, our own fine quality brands, or the best way to save, NO-FRILLS, the true "generic."
